

What is claimed:

1. A control apparatus for an engraving device comprising:
 - a. a processor having a first data input connection, a second data input connection, and a data output connection;
 - 5 b. a portable touch screen connected to said first data input connection of said processor; and
 - c. means for transmitting data from said processor to an engraving device through the data output connection of said processor.